

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
07/15/2011 – Louisville, KY

Louisville's favorite blood soaked musical returns!

Evil Dead: The Musical - The sold out campy horror musical sensation of 2009 returns to The Alley Theater in Louisville for 2011 with more effects, more fun, and of course more blood!

Join Ash and his friends as their trip to an old abandoned cabin in the woods turns into a hysterical nightmare as evil forces take them over one by one. Based on Sam Raimi's "Evil Dead" films, and poking good fun at the American Musical, this show is a bloody, campy, singing and dancing treat for the Halloween season.

Ash says it best himself: "It's an old tale. You've probably heard it a hundred times. Boy and his friends go on a week long vacation in the woods. Three friends turn into Candarian demons. One friend is killed by a forest of evil trees. Two demons are killed by their boyfriends, respectively, while one stay locked in the cellar trying to kill everything in sight. Like I said, pretty standard stuff"

Directed by Joey Arena, one of the original designers of The Baxter Avenue Morgue haunted attraction. Choreography by Valerie Hopkins; formerly of The Louisville Ballet. Music Direction by John Austin Clark of Bourbon Baroque.

Tickets go on sale August 1st.

All tickets are General Admission and the SplatterZone (the first rows of the theater, where you are guaranteed to be covered in blood) has been expanded this year!

Evil Dead: The Musical runs October 7-31 at The Alley Theater
Tickets and more info at LouEvilDead.com

The Alley Theater is located at 1205 East Washington Street, Louisville, KY 40206

Print and web media is available at <http://www.LouEvilDead.com/media>

###